

A rare, early-18th century, French, walnut, reclining, wing armchair upholstered in fine, 18th century, floral needlework

Sold

REF: 10006

Height: 115 cm (45.3")

Description

The shaped back with wings. Upholstered in fine, 18th century, French, gross-point floral needlework worked in shades of blue, green, yellow, brown, beige and red. The outside back upholstered in a green, silk damask. The sides fitted with original, iron, and adjustable ratchets supporting the scroll arms which have old repairs and the reading slope removed. The shaped seat with a loose cushion. Standing on turned front and straight back legs, joined by side and central stretchers. Good original colour and patina. French, first half of the 18th century.